SEC. 1006. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE EFFECTIVE USE OF COUNTER-DRUG FUNDS

It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff should continue to emphasize the commitment of the Department of Defense to its extremely important mission of combating illegal drugs so that the entire chain of command of the Department of Defense fully and effectively uses funds of the Department to ensure the maximum contribution of the Armed Forces to the national counter-drug effort.

SEC. 1009. ANDEAN ANTI-DRUG EFFORTS

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The support for democratic process and civilian governance in the Andean countries of Peru, Bolivia, and Colombia, the first two of which have only recently emerged from periods of military rule, is a necessary precondition for long-term stability in those countries and for the successful fight against the production and traffic of illegal drugs in those countries.

(2) The separation of military and civilian law enforcement functions has historically been a critical element in democracies around the world, including the United States.

(3) There is a need to determine whether the current policies of the United States unduly emphasize assistance to military entities of those countries rather than civilian law enforcement entities in carrying out anti-drug efforts in those countries and whether such policies might tend to undermine the dual long-term policy goals of the United States of stopping the traffic of drugs at their sources and the preservation of civilian control over the newly established democracies of the Andean countries.

(4) There is a need to assess the impact that United States assistance in the Andean anti-drug effort will have on reducing drug activity and supporting democratic processes in the Andean countries.

(b) REPORT REQUIRED.—(1) Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense shall, in consultation with the Director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy, jointly submit to Congress a report detailing current United States policies with respect to the Andean countries in general and with respect to the counter-drug enforcement activities and associated training programs of the United States in such countries in particular.

(2) Such report shall include an analysis of the impact that the involvement of the military forces of the Andean countries in counter-drug enforcement activities has on the democratic institutions of those countries and how the civilian institutions of those countries might be strengthened in order to assure the successful pursuit of a counter-drug strategy.

(3) Such report shall contain specific legislative recommendations for improving the assistance activities of the United States in the Andean countries in order to avoid unnecessary duplications and contradictions in meeting United States policy goals in those countries.

SEC. 1010. CREATION OF A MULTILATERAL COUNTER-DRUG STRIKE FORCE

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Congress has in the past sought approval for a multilateral strike force dedicated to the war on drugs.

(2) The proposal by the Prime Minister of Jamaica for the creation of a multilateral, international counter-drug strike force is the first operative proposal for the use of a multilateral force against the drug cartels in Latin America by a government leader in the Western Hemisphere and should be given serious consideration.

(b) SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Prime Minister of Jamaica is to be commended for his proposal;

(2) the President should call for international negotiations for the purpose of discussing the establishment of an international strike force to counter international drug traffickers; and

(3) the United States should work through the United Nations and other multilateral organizations to determine the feasibility of establishing and using a force and should assist in the establishment of such a force if the President determines the proposal to be feasible.

"(B) make a priority ranking of such needs according to fiscal and technological feasibility, as part of a National Counter-Drug Enforcement Research and Development Strategy;

"(C) oversee and coordinate counter-drug technology initiatives with related activities of other Federal civilian and military departments; and

"(D) under the general authority of the Director of National Drug Control Policy, submit requests to Congress for the reprogramming or transfer of funds appropriated for counter-drug enforcement research and development.

"(2) The authority granted to the Director under this section shall not extend to the award of contracts, management of individual projects, or other operational activities.

"SUBCHAPTER IV—CLOSING ACCOUNTS

"§ 1551. Definitions and applications

"(a) In this subchapter—

"(1) An obligated balance of an appropriation account as of the end of a fiscal year is the amount of unliquidated obligations applicable to the appropriation less amounts collectible as repayments to the appropriation.

"(2) An unobligated balance is the difference between the obligated balance and the total unexpended balance.

"(3) A fixed appropriation account is an appropriation account available for obligation for a definite period.

"(b) The limitations on the availability for expenditure prescribed in this subchapter apply to all appropriations unless specifically otherwise authorized by a law that specifically—

"(1) identifies the appropriate account for which the availability for expenditure is to be extended;

Records. "(2) provides that such account shall be available for recording, adjusting, and liquidating obligations properly chargeable to that account; and

"(3) extends the availability for expenditure of the obligated balances.

"(c) This subchapter does not apply to—

"(1) appropriations for the District of Columbia government; or

"(2) appropriations to be disbursed by the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

"§ 1552. Procedure for appropriation accounts available for definite periods

"(a) On September 30th of the 5th fiscal year after the period of availability for obligation of a fixed appropriation account ends, the account shall be closed and any remaining balance (whether obligated or unobligated) in the account shall be canceled and thereafter shall not be available for obligation or expenditure for any purpose.

"(b) Collections authorized or required to be credited to an appropriation account, but not received before closing of the account under subsection (a) or under section 1555 of this title shall be deposited in the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

"§ 1553. Availability of appropriation accounts to pay obligations

"(a) After the end of the period of availability for obligation of a fixed appropriation account and before the closing of that account under section 1552(a) of this title, the account shall retain its fiscal-year identity and remain available for recording, adjusting, and liquidating obligations properly chargeable to that account.

"(b)(1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (2), after the closing of an account under section 1552(a) or 1555 of this title, obligations and adjustments to obligations that would have been properly chargeable to that account, both as to purpose and in amount, before closing and that are not otherwise chargeable to any current appropriation account of the agency may be charged to any current appropriation account of the agency available for the same purpose.

"(2) The total amount of charges to an account under paragraph (1) may not exceed an amount equal to 1 percent of the total appropriations for that account.

"(c)(1) In the case of a fixed appropriation account with respect to which the period of availability for obligation has ended, if an obligation of funds from that account to provide funds for a program, project, or activity to cover amounts required for contract changes would cause the total amount of obligations from that appropriation during a fiscal year for contract changes for that program, project, or activity to exceed $4,000,000, the obligation may only be made if the obligation is approved by the head of the agency (or an officer of the agency within the Office of the head of the agency to whom the head of the agency has delegated the authority to approve such an obligation).

"(2) In the case of a fixed appropriation account with respect to which the period of availability for obligation has ended, if an obligation of funds from that account to provide funds for a program, project, or activity to cover amounts required for contract changes would cause the total amount obligated from that appropriation during a fiscal year for that program, project, or activity to exceed $25,000,000, the obligation may not be made until—

"(A) the head of the agency submits to the appropriate authorizing committees of Congress and the Committees on Appropriations of the Senate and the House of Representatives a notice in writing of the intent to obligate such funds, together with a description of the legal basis for the proposed obligation and the policy reasons for the proposed obligation; and

"(B) a period of 30 days has elapsed after the notice is submitted.

"(3) In this subsection, the term 'contract change' means a change to a contract under which the contractor is required to perform additional work. Such term does not include adjustments to pay claims or increases under an escalation clause.

"(d)(1) Obligations under this section may be paid without prior action of the Comptroller General.

"(2) This subchapter does not—

"(A) relieve the Comptroller General of the duty to make decisions requested under law; or

"(B) affect the authority of the Comptroller General to settle claims and accounts.

"(a) Any audit requirement, limitation on obligations, or reporting requirement that is applicable to an appropriation account shall remain applicable to that account after the end of the period of availability for obligation of that account.

"(b)(1) After the close of each fiscal year, the head of each agency shall submit to the President and the Secretary of the Treasury a report regarding the unliquidated obligations, unobligated balances, canceled balances, and adjustments made to appropriation accounts of that agency during the completed fiscal year. The report shall be submitted no later than 15 days after the date on which the President's budget for the next fiscal year is submitted to Congress under section 1105 of this title.

"(2) Each report required by this subsection shall—

"(A) provide a description, with reference to the fiscal year of appropriations, of the amount in each account, its source, and an itemization of the appropriations accounts;

"(D) describe any adjustment of obligations during that fiscal year pursuant to section 1553 of this title;

"(E) contain a certification by the head of the agency that the obligated balances in each appropriation account of the agency reflect proper existing obligations and that expenditures from the account since the preceding review were supported by a proper obligation of funds and otherwise were proper;

"(F) describe all balances canceled under sections 1552 and 1555 of this title.

"(3) The head of each Federal agency shall provide a copy of each such report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Appropriations, the Committee on Governmental Affairs, and other appropriate oversight and authorizing committees of the Senate.

"(c)(1) The Director of the Congressional Budget Office shall estimate each year the effect on the Federal deficit of payments and adjustments made with respect to sections 1552 and 1553 of this title. Such estimate shall be made separately for accounts of each agency.

"(2) The Director shall include in the annual report of the Director to the Committees on the Budget of the Senate and House of Representatives under paragraph (1) of section 202(f) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 a statement of the estimates made pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection during the preceding year (including any revisions to estimates contained in earlier reports under such paragraph). The Director shall include in any report under paragraph (2) of that section any revisions to such estimates made since the most recent report under paragraph (1) of such section.

"(d) The head of each agency shall establish internal controls to assure that an adequate review of obligated balances is performed to support the certification required by section 1108(c) of this title.

"§ 1555. Closing of appropriation accounts available for indefinite periods

"An appropriation account available for obligation for an indefinite period shall be closed, and any remaining balance (whether obligated or unobligated) in that account shall be canceled and thereafter shall not be available for obligation or expenditure for any purpose, if—

"(1) the head of the agency concerned or the President determines that the purposes for which the appropriation was made have been carried out; and

Any such charter—

(A) shall not permit the operation of the vessel other than in the foreign commerce of the United States;

PART C—GUARD AND RESERVE INITIATIVE

SEC. 1431. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS ON GREATER USE OF THE RESERVE COMPONENTS OF THE ARMED FORCES

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The reserve components of the Armed Forces are an essential element of the national security establishment of the United States.

(2) The overall reduction in the threat and the likelihood of continued fiscal constraints require the United States to increase use of the reserve components of the Armed Forces.

(3) The Department of Defense has not adequately implemented the Total Force Policy since its inception in 1973.

(4) The Department of Defense should shift a greater share of force structure and budgetary resources to the reserve components of the Armed Forces.

(5) Expanding the reserve components is the most effective way to retain quality personnel as the force structure of the active components is reduced over the next five years.

(6) The United States should recommit itself to the concept of the citizen soldier as a cornerstone of national defense policy for the future.

(7) The President and the Secretary of Defense should take note of and be willing to exercise existing reserve call-up authority for the purpose of using reserve component forces to perform operational missions without the necessity for declaring a national emergency.

(b) CONGRESSIONAL DECLARATION.—In view of the findings expressed in subsection (a), Congress declares that—

(1) the structure and strength of the current reserve components should be preserved;

(2) the equipment levels in existing reserve component units should be increased to match their active duty counterparts;

(3) selected missions of the active components of the Armed Forces should be increasingly transferred to the reserve components;

(4) the equipment available to the units of the reserve components should be modernized; and

(5) the integration of active component and reserve component units should be promoted as a means of achieving the Total Force Policy of the Department of Defense.

SEC. 1432. FINDINGS AND SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE IMPORTANCE OF THE READY RESERVE

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) as a result of the recent dramatic changes in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, the active military forces of the United States will be significantly reduced; and

(2) as a consequence of that reduction it will be necessary to rely increasingly, in the event of a threat to the national security, on the immediate availability of trained personnel of the Ready Reserve of the reserve components of the Armed Forces.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—In light of the finding in subsection (a), it is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the Secretary of Defense should take appropriate action to ensure that members of the Ready Reserve are made fully aware of their continuing obligation for immediate service in the active military forces in the event of a war or national emergency;

(2) the Secretary should use the annual muster provided for under section 687 of title 10, United States Code, as a means of alerting such personnel to that obligation; and

(3) the Secretary should ensure that adequate funds are made available, out of funds appropriated for the reserve components, to carry out the annual muster of such personnel.

SEC. 1433. COMMENDATION OF THE NATIONAL GUARD AND RESERVE

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Since the earliest days of this Nation, citizen-soldiers of the United States have protected their fellow citizens, defended the country, and provided heroic assistance during and following natural disasters.

(2) The citizen-soldier has played a key role in the protection of freedom since the days of the American Revolution.

(3) The National Guard and the Reserve have been accorded significantly increased status in the overall defense posture of the United States since the end of World War II.

(4) During a period in history when the Nation may face new and varied threats to peace, it is imperative that the combat capability of the National Guard and the Reserve be adequately maintained and supported.

(5) The excellence of the National Guard and Reserve is directly attributable to hard work and dedication of the outstanding men and women who regularly perform duty in the Guard and Reserve.

(b) CONGRESSIONAL DECLARATION.—In light of the findings in subsection (a), Congress—

(1) acknowledges the valuable contribution that the men and women of the National Guard and the Reserve have made to the Nation's security; and

(2) continues to support the essential role that the National Guard and the Reserve perform in the total defense establishment of the United States.

SEC. 1434. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING UNITED STATES ARMORED FORCES

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Dramatic political and military changes have occurred recently in Eastern Europe.

(2) The Warsaw Pact is no longer a credible military threat to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

(3) It appears that the heavy armored armies of both NATO and the Warsaw Pact will be substantially reduced as the result of arms control agreements or unilateral actions.

(4) There is a continued need for armor forces and many countries possess large inventories of modern tanks.

(5) The Soviet Union will still produce 1,400 new tanks in 1990.

(6) With significantly increased warning times of enemy attack, greater reliance will be placed on United States reserve component forces for armored heavy force reinforcement missions.

(7) There is a need to enhance the capabilities of armored forces of the reserve components to assume increased responsibilities for armored heavy force reinforcement missions.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—In light of the findings in subsection (a), it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the Army should take timely and necessary steps to enhance the capabilities of armored forces of the reserve components;

(2) the United States Army Armor Center should continue as the center for training, education, doctrine, and combat development for the armored forces of the United States, both active and reserve; and

(3) the United States Army Armor Center should ensure that the armored forces of the reserve components are adequately prepared to accept the increased role in armored heavy force reinforcement missions that will be assigned to them.

SEC. 1435. PRESERVATION OF FORCE STRUCTURE IN THE RESERVE COMPONENTS

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the force structure of the Selected Reserve of the reserve components of the Armed Forces during fiscal year 1991 is equivalent to the force structure of those components on January 1, 1990.

(b) AUTHORITY TO CHANGE FORCE STRUCTURE.—The Secretary may make changes in the force structure of the Selected Reserve of the reserve components only to the extent that the Secretary determines that such changes enhance the capability of reserve units in the interests of national security.

SEC. 1436. AIR NATIONAL GUARD AND AIR FORCE RESERVE AIRCRAFT

(a) TRANSFER OF AIRCRAFT TO RESERVE COMPONENT.—The Secretary of the Air Force, by the transfer of aircraft from regular component squadrons to reserve component squadrons, shall ensure that on September 30, 1994—

(1) the average number of aircraft assigned to a tanker aircraft squadron in the Air National Guard of the United States or the Air Force Reserve is equal to the average number of aircraft assigned to a tanker aircraft squadron in the regular component of the Air Force;

(2) the average number of aircraft assigned to a fighter aircraft squadron in the Air National Guard of the United States or the Air Force Reserve is equal to the average number of aircraft assigned to a fighter aircraft squadron in the regular component of the Air Force; and

(3) the average number of aircraft assigned to an airlift aircraft squadron in the Air National Guard of the United States or the Air Force Reserve is equal to the average number of aircraft assigned to an airlift aircraft squadron in the regular component of the Air Force.

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—(1) The Secretary of Defense may temporarily waive the requirement in subsection (a) with respect to a specific reserve component squadron if the Secretary determines that the squadron cannot operate the aircraft required to be transferred and that the transfer would be prejudicial to the national security of the United States.

(2) Temporary waivers under paragraph (1) shall be made on a case-by-case basis. Such a waiver shall be for a period not to exceed one year, but may be renewed for an additional period of one year under the conditions specified in paragraph (1).

SEC. 1437. P-3 AIRCRAFT

(a) TRANSFER OF AIRCRAFT TO RESERVE COMPONENTS.—(1) The Secretary of the Navy, by the transfer of aircraft from regular component squadrons to reserve component squadrons, shall ensure that on September 30, 1996, the average number of aircraft assigned to a P-3 aircraft squadron in the Naval Reserve is equal to the average number of aircraft assigned to a P-3 aircraft squadron in the regular Navy.

(2) The Secretary shall transfer no fewer than 32 P-3C aircraft pursuant to subsection (a).

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY.—(1) The Secretary of Defense may temporarily waive the requirements in subsection (a) with respect to a specific reserve component squadron if the Secretary determines that—

(A) the submarine threat presented by the Soviet Union has increased; and

(B) the P-3B aircraft would be able to track and attack effectively the submarines that comprise the increase in the threat.

(2) Temporary waivers under paragraph (1) shall be made on a case-by-case basis. Such a waiver shall be for a period not to exceed one year, but may be renewed for an additional period of one year under the conditions specified in paragraph (1).

(c) PROHIBITION ON USE OF FUNDS.—Funds appropriated or otherwise made available for operation and maintenance for the Navy for any fiscal year beginning on or after September 30, 1996, may not be used to operate or maintain P-3B aircraft.

SEC. 1438. TACTICAL AIRLIFT MISSION

(b) REQUIREMENT FOR TRANSFER PLAN.—The Secretary of the Air Force shall develop a plan for the transfer of all tactical airlift transport aircraft to the Air Force Reserve and the Air National Guard of the United States at the earliest practical date and shall complete the transfer in accordance with such plan not later than September 30, 1992.

(c) DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION OF PLAN.—The Secretary of the Air Force shall submit to the congressional defense committees a copy of the plan referred to in subsection (b) not later than June 1, 1991.

(2) Funds appropriated or otherwise made available to the Marine Corps after September 30, 1996, may not be used to operate or maintain OV-10 aircraft.

(b) RETIREMENT OF OV-1 and OV-10 AIRCRAFT.—(1) Not later than September 30, 1991, the Secretary of the Army shall retire not less than 20 percent of the OV-1 aircraft in the inventory of the Army on October 1, 1990.

(2) The Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Navy shall take such action as necessary to retire, by not later than September 30, 1996, all OV-1 and OV-10 aircraft in the inventory of the Army and Marine Corps, respectively. The Secretary of the military department concerned shall notify the Secretary of the Air Force at the time each such aircraft is retired, and the Secretary of the Air Force shall, upon such notification, transfer one A-10 aircraft and all required support equipment to such military department.

(c) TRAINING AND SUPPORT.—Chapter 901 of title 10, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following new section:

"§ 9316. Training and support for A-10 aircraft.".

PART D—ARMS CONTROL MATTERS

SEC. 1441. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON ADDITIONAL NUCLEAR RISK REDUCTION MEASURES

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) On June 1, 1990, the President of the United States and the President of the Soviet Union signed a document entitled "Joint Statement on Future Negotiations on Nuclear and Space Arms and Further Enhancing Strategic Stability".

(2) In that document, the two nations pledged to pursue additional confidence-building and predictability measures "that would reduce the possibility of an outbreak of nuclear war as a result of accident, miscalculation, terrorism, or unexpected technological breakthrough, and would prevent possible incidents between them".

(3) As a result of the recent increase in ethnic, national, economic, and political tensions within the Soviet Union, concern has heightened regarding the possible unauthorized or accidental use of Soviet nuclear weapons.

(4) It has been four years since the Department of Defense conducted a comprehensive review of its nuclear control procedures and failsafe mechanisms.

(5) The Joint Chiefs of Staff, in its 1990 Joint Military Net Assessment, concluded that with the recent changes in the global security environment "the risk of nuclear deterrence failing is assessed to be low and at this moment to be decreasing".

(6) While Congress is concerned about continued strategic offensive and defensive modernization by the Soviet Union and the unpredictable status of the domestic situation in the Soviet Union, at this stage the lessened prospects that nuclear weapons of the United States might have to be employed may afford an opportunity to reconsider past reluctance to use certain positive control measures, such as the installation of permissive action links (PALs) on nuclear weapons deployed at sea by the United States and the installation of post-launch destruct mechanisms on intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) and submarine launched ballistic missiles (SLBMs) deployed by the United States, as long as appropriate security measures can be developed to protect the integrity of such destruct mechanisms.

(7) On September 15, 1987, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed to establish Nuclear Risk Reduction Centers (NRRCs) in Washington and Moscow.

(8) The NRRCs have made a useful contribution to lowering the risks of accidental or inadvertent nuclear war and are capable of taking on expanded roles.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress—

(1) that the President of the United States and the President of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics are to be commended for their June 1, 1990, joint statement to pursue additional nuclear confidence-building measures; and

(2) that, in keeping with that joint statement, the President—

(A) should invite the Soviet Union to join with the United States in conducting separate but parallel, comprehensive reviews of each nation's own nuclear control procedures and failsafe mechanisms; and

(B) should propose to the Soviet Union that representatives of the two nations engage in discussions with the objective of agreeing on additional roles and functions that could be assigned to the Nuclear Risk Reduction Centers to further lessen the risks of the outbreak of nuclear war as the result of misinterpretation, miscalculation, or accident.

(c) REPORT ON ADDITIONAL MEASURES.—Not later than March 1, 1991, the President shall submit to Congress a report (in both classified and unclassified form) assessing additional nuclear risk reduction measures which could be implemented pursuant to the joint statement of June 1, 1990, referred to in subsection (b), including the following:

(1) Assigning to the Nuclear Risk Reduction Centers (NRRCs) such expanded roles as the following:

(A) Serving as a forum for discussions between the two nations on responding to possible nuclear terrorism.

(B) Transmitting notifications that may be required under future arms control treaties.

(C) Transmitting non-urgent notifications and information requests required under Article 5 of the 1971 Agreement on Measures to Reduce the Risk of Outbreak of Nuclear War Between the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

(D) Providing a forum for discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on restricting nuclear, chemical, and missile proliferation.

(E) Serving as a meeting place for high-level military discussions on nuclear doctrines, forces and activities, and regional security concerns.

(2) Installation of post-launch destruct mechanisms on all intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) and submarine launched ballistic missiles (SLBMs) deployed by the United States.

(3) Installation by the United States of permissive action links (PALs) on all nuclear weapons at sea.

SEC. 1442. START AND STRATEGIC MODERNIZATION

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The United States and the Soviet Union are engaged in the Strategic Arms Reduction Talks (START) in Geneva.

(2) In the Joint Statement on the Treaty on Strategic Offensive Arms signed in June 1990, the two sides reaffirmed their determination to have a START agreement completed and ready for signature by the end of 1990.

(3) Under the provisions of a START agreement, both sides will carry out significant reductions in strategic offensive arms.

(4) In the Joint Statement on Future Negotiations on Nuclear and Space Arms and Further Enhancing Strategic Stability, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed to pursue new talks on strategic offensive arms, and on the relationship between strategic offensive and defensive arms.

(5) The objectives of these negotiations will be to reduce further the risk of outbreak of war, particularly nuclear war, and to ensure strategic stability, transparency and predictability through further stabilizing reductions in the strategic arsenals of both countries.

(6) The President's effort to negotiate such agreements is dependent upon the maintenance of a vigorous research and development and modernization program as required for a prudent defense posture.

(7) The Soviet Union has maintained a robust strategic modernization program throughout the course of the START negotiations which continues today.

(b) It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) the Congress fully supports United States efforts to enhance strategic stability; and

(2) the United States should pursue stabilizing strategic arms reduction agreements while maintaining a vigorous research and development and modernization program for United States strategic forces as required for a prudent defense posture.

SEC. 1443. STRATEGIC ARMS REDUCTION TALKS AGREEMENT

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that the President, before concluding an agreement in the Strategic Arms Reduction Talks, should provide to Congress—

(1) a report on whether the SS-23 INF missiles of Soviet manufacture, which the Soviet Union has confirmed have been stationed in the territory of the former German Democratic Republic and in the territories of Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria, constitute a violation of the INF Treaty or constitute deception in the INF negotiations, and whether the United States has reliable assurances that those missiles will be destroyed; and

(2) a report on whether the Krasnoyarsk radar, which the Foreign Minister of the Soviet Union admitted is a clear violation of the 1972 ABM Treaty, has been verifiably dismantled in accordance with United States criteria.

Classified information.

FORM OF REPORTS.—The reports under paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (a) should be submitted in both classified and unclassified form.

"(A) similar items of property, services, and supplies accepted by the Secretary during the quarter concerned; and

"(B) components which, if assembled, would comprise all or a substantial part of an item of equipment or a facility.

"(c) AUTHORITY TO USE PROPERTY, SERVICES, AND SUPPLIES.—Property, services, or supplies referred to in subsection (a) may be used by the Secretary of Defense without specific authorization, except that such property, services, and supplies may not be used in connection with any program, project, or activity if the use of such property, services, or supplies would result in the violation of any prohibition or limitation otherwise applicable to that program, project, or activity.

"(d) ANNUAL AUDIT BY GAO.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct an annual audit of property, services, and supplies accepted by the Secretary of Defense under this section and shall submit a copy of the results of each such audit to Congress.".

SEC. 1454. COOPERATION WITH JAPAN ON TECHNOLOGICAL RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Japan has developed highly sophisticated research and manufacturing capabilities.

(2) Those capabilities have produced technologies that can be usefully applied to the development and manufacture of both commercial products and defense equipment.

(3) The availability of those technologies to the United States would greatly enhance the development and manufacture of defense equipment for the Armed Forces of the United States.

(4) Since the exchange of notes between the United States and Japan on the transfer of Japanese military technologies in 1983, the level and quality of technological cooperation between the two countries have been unsatisfactory.

(5) Effective cooperation in technology research and development between the United States and Japan would enhance the security of both countries.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the United States and Japan should strengthen their cooperation with regard to technology that would contribute to the security of both countries;

(2) technological cooperation between the two countries should be based upon an equitable and mutual sharing of the costs and benefits of that cooperation; and

(3) the Secretary of Defense should improve the staffing, funding, and organization of those activities within the Department of Defense responsible for implementing and overseeing technological cooperation with Japan.

(c) COOPERATION ON RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.—In light of the expressions in subsections (a) and (b), Congress urges and requests the President and directs the Secretary of Defense to pursue vigorously opportunities for the United States and Japan to cooperate in the development of technologies that benefit the security of both countries, particularly those technologies that have both commercial and military applications, commonly referred to as "dual-use" technologies.

(d) COOPERATIVE RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS.—(1) Subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), of the funds authorized to be appropriated pursuant to section 201 for basic research, exploratory development, and advanced technology, $10,000,000 shall be available for research and development projects conducted jointly by the United States and Japan, pursuant to a memorandum of understanding or other formal agreement, for the purpose of—

(A) developing new conventional defense equipment; or

(B) modifying existing defense equipment to meet United States defense requirements.

(2)(A) Funds made available for research and development projects under paragraph (1) may be obligated and expended for a particular research project only if the Secretary of Defense determines that—

(i) the particular project will improve, through the application of emerging technology, the conventional defense capabilities of the United States and Japan; and

(ii) the applicable memorandum of understanding or other formal agreement provides for the sharing of costs on an equitable basis.

(B) The Secretary may delegate the performance of the responsibility to make determinations under subparagraph (A) only to the Deputy Secretary of Defense or the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition.

(3) None of the funds made available for research and development projects under paragraph (1) may be used for research and development under the Strategic Defense Initiative.

(e) STAFFING.—The Secretary of Defense is urged to increase the number of personnel assigned to the Office of the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (International Programs) for the specific purpose of providing oversight of the joint research and development projects of the United States and Japan for which funds are made available under subsection (d).

SEC. 1455. PERMANENT CEILING ON UNITED STATES ARMED FORCES IN JAPAN AND CONTRIBUTIONS BY JAPAN TO THE SUPPORT OF UNITED STATES FORCES IN JAPAN 10 USC 113 note.

(b) PERMANENT CEILING ON UNITED STATES ARMED FORCES IN JAPAN.—Funds appropriated pursuant to an authorization contained in this Act or any subsequent Act may not be used to support an end strength level of all personnel of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in Japan at any level in excess of 50,000.

(c) SENSE OF CONGRESS ON ALLIED BURDEN SHARING.—(1) Congress recognizes that Japan has made a substantial pledge of financial support to the effort to support the United Nations Security Council resolutions on Iraq.

(2) It is the sense of Congress that—

(A) all countries that share the benefits of international security and stability should, commensurate with their national capabilities, share in the responsibility for maintaining that security and stability; and

(B) given the economic capability of Japan to contribute to international security and stability, Japan should make contributions commensurate with that capability.

President.

(d) NEGOTIATIONS.—At the earliest possible date after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall enter into negotiations with Japan for the purpose of achieving an agreement before September 30, 1991, under which Japan offsets all direct costs (other than pay and allowances for United States military and civilian personnel) incurred by the United States related to the presence of all United States military personnel stationed in Japan.

(e) EXCEPTIONS.—(1) This section shall not apply in the event of a declaration of war or an armed attack on Japan.

(2) This section may be waived by the President if the President—

(A) declares an emergency or determines that such a waiver is required by the national security interests of the United States; and

(B) immediately informs the Congress of the waiver and the reasons for the waiver.

SEC. 1456. LIMITATION ON THE COSTS TO THE UNITED STATES FOR PAYMENTS TO FOREIGN NATIONALS EMPLOYED AT BASES OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

(a) LIMITATION.—The costs incurred by the United States during fiscal year 1991 for the payment of salaries and other remuneration to foreign nationals who are employed at United States military installations located outside the United States shall be reduced by the Secretary of Defense at a rate necessary to achieve a 25 percent reduction in such costs by the end of fiscal year 1991 below the amount that was requested for such costs in the budget for fiscal year 1991 submitted by the President to Congress under section 1105 of title 31, United States Code.

(b) WAIVER AUTHORITY AND REQUIREMENT OF NOTIFICATION.—The Secretary of Defense may waive the requirement of subsection (a) if the Secretary determines that the national security interests of the United States require such action. If the requirement of subsection (a) is waived, the Secretary shall notify Congress of that action and include in that notification the reasons for such waiver.

50 USC 404c.

SEC. 1457. ANNUAL REPORT ON UNITED STATES SECURITY ARRANGEMENTS AND COMMITMENTS WITH OTHER NATIONS

President.

(a) REPORT REQUIREMENTS.—The President shall submit to the Committees on Armed Services and on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Committees on Armed Services and Foreign Relations of the Senate each year a report (in both classified and unclassified form) on United States security arrangements with, and commitments to, other nations.

(b) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The President shall include in each such report the following:

(1) A description of—

(A) each security arrangement with, or commitment to, other nations, whether based upon (i) a formal document (including a mutual defense treaty, a pre-positioning arrangement or agreement, or an access agreement), or (ii) an expressed policy; and

(B) the historical origins of each such arrangement or commitment.

(2) An evaluation of the ability of the United States to meet its commitments based on the projected reductions in the defense structure of the United States.

(2) In the case of the report required to be submitted in 1991, the evaluation, plan, and assessment referred to in paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) of subsection (b) may be submitted not later than May 1, 1991.

SEC. 1458. ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST THE REPUBLIC OF IRAQ

50 USC 1701 note.

If the President considers that the taking of such action would promote the effectiveness of the economic sanctions of the United Nations and the United States imposed with respect to Iraq, and is consistent with the national interest, the President may prohibit, for such a period of time as he considers appropriate, the importation into the United States of any or all products of any foreign country that has not—

(1) prohibited—

(A) the importation of products of Iraq into its customs territory, and

(B) the export of its products to Iraq; or

(2) given assurances satisfactory to the President that such import and export sanctions will be promptly implemented.

SEC. 1459. HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE FOR LITHUANIA

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the President should provide appropriate forms of humanitarian assistance for Lithuania. Such assistance is necessary as a result of the courageous efforts of the Lithuanian people to rebuild an independent society and state.

(1) reimburse North American Van Lines, a corporation operating under the laws of the State of Delaware, in an amount not to exceed $357,000, for damage to, or loss of, property owned by that corporation that—

SEC. 3141. CONTRACTOR LIABILITY FOR INJURY OR LOSS OF PROPERTY ARISING OUT OF ATOMIC WEAPONS TESTING PROGRAMS Atomic Testing Liability Act. 42 USC 2212.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the "Atomic Testing Liability Act".

(b) FEDERAL REMEDIES APPLICABLE; EXCLUSIVENESS OF REMEDIES.—

(1) REMEDY.—The remedy against the United States provided by sections 1346(b) and 2672 of title 28, United States Code, by the Act of March 9, 1920 (46 U.S.C. App. 741–752), or by the Act of March 3, 1925 (46 U.S.C. App. 781–790), as appropriate, for injury, loss of property, personal injury, or death shall apply to any civil action for injury, loss of property, personal injury, or death due to exposure to radiation based on acts or omissions by a contractor in carrying out an atomic weapons testing program under a contract with the United States.

(2) EXCLUSIVITY.—The remedies referred to in paragraph (1) shall be exclusive of any other civil action or proceeding for the purpose of determining civil liability arising from any act or omission of the contractor without regard to when the act or omission occurred. The employees of a contractor referred to in paragraph (1) shall be considered to be employees of the Federal Government, as provided in section 2671 of title 28, United States Code, for the purposes of any such civil action or proceeding; and the civil action or proceeding shall proceed in the same manner as any action against the United States filed pursuant to section 1346(b) of such title and shall be subject to the limitations and exceptions applicable to those actions.

(c) PROCEDURE.—A contractor against whom a civil action or proceeding described in subsection (b) is brought shall promptly deliver all processes served upon that contractor to the Attorney General of the United States. Upon certification by the Attorney General that the suit against the contractor is within the provisions of subsection (b), a civil action or proceeding commenced in a State court shall be removed without bond at any time before trial by the Attorney General to the district court of the United States for the district and division embracing the place wherein it is pending and the proceedings shall be deemed a tort action brought against the United States under the provisions of section 1346(b), 2401(b), or 2402, or sections 2671 through 2680 of title 28, United States Code. For purposes of removal, the certification by the Attorney General under this subsection establishes contractor status conclusively.

(d) ACTIONS COVERED.—The provisions of this section shall apply to any action, within the provisions of subsection (b), which is pending on the date of the enactment of this Act or commenced on or after such date. Notwithstanding section 2401(b) of title 28, United States Code, if a civil action or proceeding to which this section applies is pending on the date of the enactment of this Act and is dismissed because the plaintiff in such action or proceeding did not file an administrative claim as required by section 2672 of that title, the plaintiff in that action or proceeding shall have 30 days from the date of the dismissal or two years from the date upon which the claim accrued, whichever is later, to file an administrative claim, and any claim or subsequent civil action or proceeding shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of section 2401(b) of title 28, United States Code.

(e) "CONTRACTOR" DEFINED.—For purposes of this section, the term "contractor" includes a contractor or cost reimbursement subcontractor of any tier participating in the conduct of the United States atomic weapons testing program for the Department of Energy (or its predecessor agencies, including the Manhattan Engineer District, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Energy Research and Development Administration). Such term also includes facilities which conduct or have conducted research concerning health effects of ionizing radiation in connection with the testing under contract with the Department of Energy (or any of its predecessor agencies).

SEC. 3142. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON NEGOTIATING AGREEMENTS TO ACHIEVE A COMPREHENSIVE TEST BAN

The Congress, mindful of the commitment of the United States, the Soviet Union, and Great Britain in the Limited Test Ban Treaty of 1963 and in the Non-Proliferation Treaty of 1968 to seek the discontinuance of all test explosions of nuclear weapons for all time and of the commitment which shall be legally binding on the parties upon ratification of the Treaty on the Limitation of Underground Nuclear Weapons Tests to "continue their negotiations with a view toward achieving a solution to the problem of the cessation of all underground nuclear weapons tests", states that it is the sense of Congress that the United States shares a special responsibility with the Soviet Union to continue the bilateral Nuclear Testing Talks to achieve further limitations on nuclear testing, including the achievement of a verifiable comprehensive test ban.

PART D—INTERNATIONAL FISSILE MATERIAL AND WARHEAD CONTROL

SEC. 3151. PRODUCTION OF PLUTONIUM AND HIGHLY ENRICHED URANIUM FOR NUCLEAR WEAPONS AND DISPOSAL OF NUCLEAR STOCKPILES

(a) PRODUCTION BY THE SOVIET UNION.—Congress urges the President of the Soviet Union and the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Union—

(1) to cease production by the Soviet Union of plutonium;

(2) to maintain the cessation in production by the Soviet Union of highly-enriched uranium for weapons that was announced on April 7, 1989.

(b) TECHNICAL ASPECTS OF FISSILE MATERIAL MONITORING AND NUCLEAR WARHEAD DISMANTLEMENT.—Should the President determine that future international agreements should provide for dismantlement of nuclear warheads and a ban on further production of fissile materials for weapons, then the Congress urges the President to seek to establish with the Soviet Union a joint technical working group to examine and demonstrate cooperative technical monitoring and inspection arrangements that could be applied to the design and verification of these potential provisions.

(c) REPORT ON VERIFICATION TECHNIQUES.—(1) The President shall prepare a comprehensive technical report on the verification matters described in paragraph (2). President.

(2) The report shall describe the on-site monitoring techniques, inspection arrangements, and national technical means that could be used by the United States to verify the actions of other nations with respect to the following:

(A) Dismantlement of nuclear warheads in the event that a future agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union should provide for such dismantlement to be carried out in a mutually verifiable manner.

(B) A mutual United States-Soviet ban, leading to a multilateral, global ban, on the production of additional quantities of plutonium and highly-enriched uranium for nuclear weapons.

(C) The end use or ultimate disposal of any plutonium and highly enriched uranium recovered from the dismantlement of nuclear warheads.

(3) In order to prepare the report required by paragraph (1), the President shall establish a Technical Advisory Committee on Verification of Fissile Material and Nuclear Warhead Controls, to be composed of preeminent government and nongovernment experts in the fields of radiation detection, nondestructive examination, nuclear safeguards, nuclear materials production, and nuclear warhead dismantlement. Such committee, which shall be established not later than December 31, 1990, shall advise the President on the availability, use, and further development of techniques which could be applied to the verification of the prospective actions described in paragraph (2).

(4) The report required by paragraph (1) shall be submitted to Congress not later than April 30, 1991. The report shall be submitted in unclassified form with such classified appendices as may be necessary.

SEC. 3152. DEVELOPMENT AND DEMONSTRATION OF MEANS FOR WARHEAD DISMANTLEMENT VERIFICATION

The Secretary of Energy may use funds available to the Secretary for national security programs of the Department of Energy for fiscal year 1991 to carry out a program to develop and demonstrate a means for verifiable dismantlement of nuclear warheads.

SEC. 3162. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) Scientific, technical, and engineering competence is essential to the Nation's future well-being.

(2) The scientific, technical, and engineering capability at the Federal laboratories is unmatched throughout the world.

(3) Superb research, development, testing, and evaluation occur in Department of Energy research and development facilities.

(4) Department of Energy research and development facilities will play an increasing role in assuring that the United States remains competitive in world markets.

(5) Improvements in mathematics, science, and engineering education are needed desperately to provide the trained and educated citizenry essential to the future competitiveness of the United States.

(6) The future health and vitality of the economy of the United States is predicated on the availability of an adequate supply of scientists, mathematicians, and engineers to provide for growing needs and to replenish the workforce.

(7) United States college and university enrollment in science, mathematics, and engineering programs is sharply declining at undergraduate, graduate, and post-graduate levels.

(8) The Federal Government is the largest United States employer of research scientists, mathematicians, and engineers, and the Department of Energy has a growing need for scientists, mathematicians, and engineers at a time when these enrollments are declining.

(9) Women and minorities are grossly underrepresented in science and mathematics fields, and this group represents more than 80 percent of the projected increase in the national workforce through the year 2000.

(b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this part are—

(1) to encourage the development and implementation of science, mathematics, and engineering education programs at the Department of Energy and at its research and development facilities as part of a national effort to improve science, mathematics, and engineering education; and

(2) to provide more efficient coordination among science, mathematics, and engineering education programs.

SEC. 3163. MISSION

Section 102 of the Department of Energy Organization Act (42 U.S.C. 7112) is amended—

(1) in the second sentence, by striking out "Act—" and inserting in lieu thereof "Act:";

(2) in paragraph (17), by striking out "and" after the semicolon;

(4) by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

"(19) To ensure that the Department can continue current support of mathematics, science, and engineering education programs by using the personnel, facilities, equipment, and resources of its laboratories and by working with State and local education agencies, institutions of higher education, and business and industry. The Department's involvement in mathematics, science, and engineering education should be consistent with its main mission and should be coordinated with all Federal efforts in mathematics, science, and engineering education, especially with the Department of Education and the National Science Foundation (which have the primary Federal responsibility for mathematics, science, and engineering education).".

(8) Provide paid administrative leave for employees of the Department or Department research and development facilities who volunteer to interact with schools, colleges, universities, teachers, or students for the purpose of science, mathematics, and engineering education.

(9) Establish a talent pool of volunteer scientists, mathematicians, and engineers who have retired from the Department or Department research and development facilities to serve at schools and school districts for the purpose of (A) assisting teachers, with activities such as experiments, lectures, or the preparation of materials; (B) serving as counselors to students on science, mathematics, and engineering; and (C) otherwise assisting science, mathematics, and engineering classes. The Secretary, acting through Department research and development facilities, shall, wherever possible, identify and match schools and school districts with retired scientists, mathematicians, and engineers.

(J) Establish a Young Americans' Summer Science Camp Program to provide secondary school students with a hands-on science experience as well as exposure to working scientists and career counseling.

50 USC 401 note.

SEC. 8104. SECTION 1. This section establishes the National Commission on Defense and National Security.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Recent revolutionary world events require a fundamental reassessment of the defense and national security policies of the United States.

(2) Emerging democracies around the world will require political, technical, and economic assistance, as well as military assistance, from the developed free nations in order to thrive and to become productive members of the world community.

(3) Real and potential military threats to the United States and its allies will continue to exist for the foreseeable future from not just the Soviet Union but also from terrorism and from Third World nations.

(4) Proliferation of both sophisticated conventional weapons and of nuclear weapons could produce a world more dangerous than we have faced in the past.

(5) Ethnic rivalries as well as economic inequalities may produce instabilities that could spark serious conflict.

(6) In order to formulate coherent national policies to meet these challenges of a new world environment, it is essential for the United States to achieve a bipartisan consensus such as that which emerged following World War II.

(7) Such a consensus can be fostered by the development of policy recommendations from a highly respected group of individuals who do not bear a partisan label and who possess critical expertise and experience.

16 USC 396f note.

(b) Section 9102 of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1990 (Public Law 101-165, 103 Stat. 1151), is amended as follows:

(1) in subsection (b)(1), by deleting the phrase "(b)(2)" and inserting in lieu thereof the phrase "(a)(2)",

(2) subsection (d) is amended to read as follows:

"(d) AGENCY DEFINED.—In this section the term 'agency' includes—

"(1) any instrumentality of the United States, or

"(2) any element of an agency, or

"(3) any wholly owned or mixed-owned United States Government corporation identified in chapter 91 of title 31, United States Code.".

(3) by adding at the end thereof the following new subsections:

"(e) PROPERTY DEFINED.—Notwithstanding the definition of 'property' found in the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended, in this section the term 'property' includes any property—real, personal, or mixed—owned, held, or controlled by the United States (including that in a corporate capacity or as a receiver or conservator, or such other similar fiduciary relationship), and offered for sale by any agency or instrumentality of the United States, including but not limited to the General Services Administration, Department of Defense, Department of the Interior, Department of Agriculture, Department of Housing and Urban Development, the United States Courts and any Government corporation, agency or instrumentality subject to chapter 91 of title 31, United States Code; real property as used in this section means any land or interest in land or option to purchase land, any improvements on such lands, or rights to their use or exploitation.

Drug traffic control.

SEC. 8135. It is the sense of the Congress that United States participation in a multinational anti-narcotics strike force, as called for in sections 4101 and 4103 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-690), should include the full range of appropriate law enforcement and anti-drug abuse agencies, and that consideration be given to aiding such a strike force by funding from appropriate sources for multilateral intelligence-sharing, multilateral training of law enforcement personnel; and multilateral support for crop substitution, drug treatment, drug research and drug education programs.

Funds made available under this Act for Department of Defense drug interdiction activities may be expended to fund the participation of United States Armed Forces in conjunction with appropriate United States law enforcement and anti-drug abuse agencies, in accordance with other applicable laws, in such a strike force.

SEC. 8136. (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

(1) the President and Secretary of State have stated publicly that a new international order is being created;

(2) such order is characterized, among other things, by—

(A) a rough parity of financial and technological strength and of standards of living among Members of the Group of Seven;

(B) the successful culmination of allied postwar foreign policy in the emergence of political and economic freedom in formerly communist nations and the progressive integration of such nations into the world economy; and

(C) with the reduction of ideological and military tension between members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Warsaw Pact, the increased importance of economic strength in the ability of nations to provide for national security and promote foreign policy objectives;

(3) such rough parity of economic strength among Members of the Group of Seven as well as the large and growing net national and international debt of the United States affirm that the new international order should be accompanied by a more balanced distribution of the economic burden of providing for common security than that which accompanied the postwar international order; and

(4) it should be a priority of United States foreign policy in the new international order to attain at an early stage a more balanced distribution of the aggregate economic burden of common security among advanced industrial nations.

(b) NEGOTIATIONS.—It is the sense of the Congress that the President should negotiate within the Group of Seven to conclude agreements providing for— President.

(1) a commonly accepted methodology by which to measure relative rates of expenditures on common security objectives by each Member;

(2) through the application of such methodology, commonly accepted calculations of current rates of expenditures on common security objectives by each Member; and

(3) a framework, concrete agenda, and timetable of actions by each Member to converge substantially their aggregate rates of expenditures on common security objectives as a proportion of national income over a reasonable, finite period.

(c) REPORTS TO CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that the President should submit reports to Congress no later than August 1, 1991, and August 1, 1992, assessing progress toward the agreements referred to in subsection (b). In the absence of substantial progress toward the agreements referred to in subsection (b) at the time of issuance of such reports, the President should include in such reports a calculation and comparative analysis of current rates of expenditures on common security objectives by each Member on the basis of the best and most current information available.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—For purposes of this section—

(1) the term "Members" means the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Canada, the Federal Republic of Germany, Japan, the United States, and the European Community; and

(2) the term "expenditures on common security objectives" includes—

(A) expenditures on defense operations and activities outside a Member's territory which provide for the defense of two or more Members pursuant to a treaty or other arrangement between two or more Members;

(B) official development assistance to developing or emerging democracy country markets;

(C) contributions to multilateral development banks;

(D) untied export credit assistance to developing or emerging democracy markets;

(E) other non-military, untied economic or financial assistance to developing or emerging democracy country markets; and

(F) expenditures which address global environmental problems or which improve environmental conditions outside a Member's territory.

TITLE I—AMENDMENTS TO THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND HUMANITIES ACT OF 1965

SEC. 101. DECLARATION OF FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

Section 2 of the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities Act of 1965 (20 U.S.C. 951) is amended to read as follows:

"DECLARATION OF FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

"SEC. 2. The Congress finds and declares the following:

"(1) The arts and the humanities belong to all the people of the United States.

"(2) The encouragement and support of national progress and scholarship in the humanities and the arts, while primarily a matter for private and local initiative, are also appropriate matters of concern to the Federal Government.

"(3) An advanced civilization must not limit its efforts to science and technology alone, but must give full value and support to the other great branches of scholarly and cultural activity in order to achieve a better understanding of the past, a better analysis of the present, and a better view of the future.

"(4) Democracy demands wisdom and vision in its citizens. It must therefore foster and support a form of education, and access to the arts and the humanities, designed to make people of all backgrounds and wherever located masters of their technology and not its unthinking servants.

"(5) It is necessary and appropriate for the Federal Government to complement, assist, and add to programs for the advancement of the humanities and the arts by local, State, regional, and private agencies and their organizations. In doing so, the Government must be sensitive to the nature of public sponsorship. Public funding of the arts and humanities is subject to the conditions that traditionally govern the use of public money. Such funding should contribute to public support and confidence in the use of taxpayer funds. Public funds provided by the Federal Government must ultimately serve public purposes the Congress defines.

"(6) The arts and the humanities reflect the high place accorded by the American people to the nation's rich cultural heritage and to the fostering of mutual respect for the diverse beliefs and values of all persons and groups.

"(7) The practice of art and the study of the humanities require constant dedication and devotion. While no government can call a great artist or scholar into existence, it is necessary and appropriate for the Federal Government to help create and sustain not only a climate encouraging freedom of thought, imagination, and inquiry but also the material conditions facilitating the release of this creative talent.

"(8) The world leadership which has come to the United States cannot rest solely upon superior power, wealth, and technology, but must be solidly founded upon worldwide respect and admiration for the Nation's high qualities as a leader in the realm of ideas and of the spirit.

"(9) Americans should receive in school, background and preparation in the arts and humanities to enable them to recognize and appreciate the aesthetic dimensions of our lives, the diversity of excellence that comprises our cultural heritage, and artistic and scholarly expression.

"(10) It is vital to a democracy to honor and preserve its multicultural artistic heritage as well as support new ideas, and therefore it is essential to provide financial assistance to its artists and the organizations that support their work.

"(11) To fulfill its educational mission, achieve an orderly continuation of free society, and provide models of excellence to the American people, the Federal Government must transmit the achievement and values of civilization from the past via the present to the future, and make widely available the greatest achievements of art.

"(12) In order to implement these findings and purposes, it is desirable to establish a National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities.".

SEC. 586F. DECLARATIONS REGARDING IRAQ'S LONG-STANDING VIOLATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

(a) IRAQ'S VIOLATIONS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.—The Congress determines that—

(1) the Government of Iraq has demonstrated repeated and blatant disregard for its obligations under international law by violating the Charter of the United Nations, the Protocol for the Prohibition of the Use in War of Asphyxiating, Poisonous or Other Gases, and of Bacteriological Methods of Warfare (done at Geneva, June 17, 1925), as well as other international treaties;

(2) the Government of Iraq is a party to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights and is obligated under the Covenants, as well as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, to respect internationally recognized human rights;

(3) the State Department's Country Reports on Human Rights Practices for 1989 again characterizes Iraq's human rights record as "abysmal";

(4) Amnesty International, Middle East Watch, and other independent human rights organizations have documented extensive, systematic, and continuing human rights abuses by the Government of Iraq, including summary executions, mass political killings, disappearances, widespread use of torture, arbitrary arrests and prolonged detention without trial of thousands of political opponents, forced relocation and deportation, denial of nearly all civil and political rights such as freedom of association, assembly, speech, and the press, and the imprisonment, torture, and execution of children;

(5) since 1987, the Government of Iraq has intensified its severe repression of the Kurdish minority of Iraq, deliberately destroyed more than 3,000 villages and towns in the Kurdish regions, and forcibly expelled more than 500,000 people, thus effectively depopulating the rural areas of Iraqi Kurdistan;

(6) Iraq has blatantly violated international law by initiating use of chemical weapons in the Iran-Iraq war;

(7) Iraq has also violated international law by using chemical weapons against its own Kurdish citizens, resulting in tens of thousands of deaths and more than 65,000 refugees;

Saddam Hussein.

(8) Iraq continues to expand its chemical weapons capability, and President Saddam Hussein has threatened to use chemical weapons against other nations;

(9) persuasive evidence exists that Iraq is developing biological weapons in violation of international law;

(10) there are strong indications that Iraq has taken steps to produce nuclear weapons and has attempted to smuggle from the United States, in violation of United States law, components for triggering devices used in nuclear warheads whose manufacture would contravene the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons, to which Iraq is a party; and

(11) Iraqi President Saddam Hussein has threatened to use terrorism against other nations in violation of international law and has increased Iraq's support for the Palestine Liberation Organization and other Palestinian groups that have conducted terrorist acts.

(b) HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.—The Congress determines that the Government of Iraq is engaged in a consistent pattern of gross violations of internationally recognized human rights. All provisions of law that impose sanctions against a country whose government is engaged in a consistent pattern of gross violations of internationally recognized human rights shall be fully enforced against Iraq.

(c) SUPPORT FOR INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM.—(1) The Congress determines that Iraq is a country which has repeatedly provided support for acts of international terrorism, a country which grants sanctuary from prosecution to individuals or groups which have committed an act of international terrorism, and a country which otherwise supports international terrorism. The provisions of law specified in paragraph (2) and all other provisions of law that impose sanctions against a country which has repeatedly provided support for acts of international terrorism, which grants sanctuary from prosecution to an individual or group which has committed an act of international terrorism, or which otherwise supports international terrorism shall be fully enforced against Iraq.

(D) section 555 of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1985.

(d) MULTILATERAL COOPERATION.—The Congress calls on the President to seek multilateral cooperation—

(1) to deny dangerous technologies to Iraq;

(2) to induce Iraq to respect internationally recognized human rights; and

SUPPORT FOR EGYPTIAN MILITARY DEPLOYMENTS IN THE GULF

SEC. 592. MULTILATERAL DEBT NEGOTIATIONS.—The Congress finds that Egypt has official debt obligations that far exceed the amounts owed to the United States. The Congress further finds that Egypt's debt situation can be addressed effectively only in a multilateral context involving its major creditor governments and addressing both military and economic debt.

Therefore, before the authority contained in subsection (b) is exercised, the President shall seek to convene a multilateral conference of the major official creditors of the Government of Egypt for the purpose of adjusting Egypt's official debt in a manner which reflects the real collectability of that debt. President.

The President in such negotiations shall explicitly and strongly encourage other governments holding major amounts of Egyptian military debt to give that debt the same treatment that it is being accorded by the United States. President.

(a) DEBT MORATORIUM.—(1) There shall be a moratorium on the payment obligation by Egypt beginning on October 1, 1990, and ending on March 31, 1991, with respect to the notes described in paragraph (2).

(2) The notes with respect to which this moratorium shall apply are all notes made by Egypt evidencing amounts owed by Egypt to the United States (or any agency of the United States) as a result of loans made before October 1, 1990, by the United States (or any of its agencies) to Egypt under the Arms Export Control Act (all such loans being hereinafter collectively referred to as the "AECA Loans").

(3) Section 518 of this Act, section 620(q) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, and any other provision that similarly restricts the furnishing of assistance to countries in default on payment to the United States of principal or interest shall not apply during the moratorium described in paragraph (1) with respect to amounts owed by Egypt under the AECA Loans.

(4) Nothing in this subsection shall interfere with, or otherwise diminish, the obligation of the Secretary of Defense as guarantor with respect to the AECA Loans.

(b) DEBT CONSOLIDATION IN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.—As soon as feasible after the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall—

(1) issue to the Secretary of the Treasury sufficient notes or other obligations to purchase all notes made by Egypt evidencing amounts owed by Egypt to the United States (or any agency of the United States), other than amounts already owed to the Secretary of Defense, as a result of AECA Loans; and

(2) purchase all such notes made by Egypt, such purchase being considered to discharge the responsibilities of the Secretary of Defense as guarantor of such notes.

(c) PRESIDENTIAL REPORT ON THE REAL VALUE OF EGYPTIAN DEBT OWED TO THE UNITED STATES AND PRESIDENTIAL MILITARY DEBT REDUCTION AUTHORITY.—After the Department of Defense has taken the actions described in subsection (b)—

(1) the President shall submit a report to Congress in which he determines the value of the AECA Loans and all other loans owed by Egypt to the United States based on realistic payment expectations as of October 1, 1990, and an explanation of the factors considered by the President in determining the value; and

(2) after the President has submitted the report to Congress provided for in paragraph (1), the President may—

(A) reduce the amount owed by Egypt to the Secretary of Defense to an amount that equals the value of the AECA Loans as determined by the President in the report described in paragraph (1);

(B) direct the Secretary of Defense to amend, modify or otherwise alter the notes described in subsection (a)(2) so that the amended, modified or altered notes (the "amended notes") evidence a principal amount owed by Egypt to the Secretary of Defense equal to the value of the AECA Loans as determined under paragraph (1), and contain such terms and conditions as the President may determine consistent with the purposes of this section, provided that such terms and conditions shall not—

(i) reflect any interest accrued in respect of the period between October 1, 1990, and March 31, 1991; and

(ii) require Egypt to make any payment before March 31, 1991; and

(C) reduce the amount owed by the Secretary of Defense under all notes or other obligations issued by the Secretary of Defense to the Secretary of the Treasury that are related to any guarantees of any AECA Loans (including all notes or other obligations issued under subsection (b)) by multiplying it by a fraction, the numerator of which shall equal the value of the AECA Loans as determined under paragraph (1), and the denominator of which shall equal the sum of (i) the amount owed by the Secretary of Defense under notes issued to the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to subsection (b)(1), plus (ii) the amount owed by Egypt as a result of the AECA Loans to the Secretary of Defense as of October 1, 1990, plus (iii) the amount that Egypt would have owed as a result of the AECA Loans to the Secretary of Defense in respect of the period beginning October 1, 1990, and ending immediately before the President makes the reduction described in subsection (c)(2)(A).

The military debt reduction authority provided by this subsection shall be limited such that no reduction shall result in a decrease in the principal value of the AECA Loans below the discounted net present value which would result from a restructuring of the AECA Loans according to the terms and conditions which apply to the loans of the International Development Association (principal shall be repayable over 40 years and shall bear no interest, and there shall be a 10 year grace period after which period 2 per centum of the loan shall be repaid annually for a period of 10 years, and 4 per centum of the loan shall be repaid annually during the remaining years).

(d) DEBT CANCELLATION AUTHORITY.—(1) The President, notwithstanding any other provision of law, in the context of the multilateral debt negotiations provided for in this section may reduce to zero the amended notes (in the manner specified in subsection (e)(2) (A) and (B)) only if other major holders of Egyptian military debt agree to equal or comparable reductions. If such other creditors do not agree to comparable reductions in their Egyptian military debt the President shall so report to Congress. Reports.

(2) If the President reports to Congress under paragraph (1) then he may further determine that it is essential to the national security interests of the United States to unilaterally cancel the requirement of Egypt to repay the United States for such Egyptian military debt.

(e) CONSIDERATIONS.—(1) In making this determination under subsection (d)(2), the President may consider—

(A) the unique nature of Egypt's contribution to Desert Shield, and its leadership role in supporting international efforts in the face of Iraqi aggression in the Arabian Peninsula;

(B) the impact on the Egyptian economy of the events surrounding the Iraqi aggression;

(C) the long-term prospects for economic growth and stability in Egypt, and the effect on those prospects of such a determination;

(D) the role that Egypt's assumption of FMS debt played in furtherance of the common security interests of Egypt and the United States, and the role if any that such debt was expected to have relative to other forms of official debt in generating income and promoting growth in the Egyptian economy;

(E) the willingness of other countries to participate in efforts to address the issue of official Egyptian military debt on a multilateral basis; and

(F) any other national security interests of the United States.

Operation Desert Shield.

(2) If the President determines in the report provided for in subsection (d) that doing so is essential to the success of Desert Shield, or to enhance peace and stability in the Middle East, then he is hereby authorized to reduce to zero—

(A) the amount owed by Egypt to the Secretary of Defense under the amended notes; and

(B) the amount owed by the Secretary of Defense under all notes or other obligations issued by the Secretary of Defense to the Secretary of the Treasury that are related to any guarantees of any AECA Loans, including all notes or other obligations issued under subsection (b)(1).

(f) The President may carry out the purposes of this section notwithstanding any other provision of law.

(2) in spite of these international conventions, the effective prosecution of those who commit criminal acts has been seriously obstructed in certain cases because of problems of extradition and differences between the legal and judicial systems of individual nations;

(3) the jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice extends only to cases involving governments, and not to individual criminal cases; gate from established standards of due process, the rights of the accused to a fair trial and the sovereignty of individual nations.

(8) the greatest challenge for the new government is to service the staggering debt run up by the previous communist regime; and

(9) the servicing of this debt out of current revenues endangers a successful completion of the reform process because it consumes a large part of the resources needed for economic expansion: Now, therefore, be it

(b) The sense of the Congress that—

(1) Poland's debt service should be reduced in the appropriate manner to safeguard the promising reform concept;

(2) any solution of this problem should entail a broad range of approaches, such as outright debt reduction, debt service reduction, and lengthening of maturities, as well as an infusion of new capital;

(3) the Western governments, which are Poland's major creditors, should take speedy action in this area and private banks should also be prepared to contribute their share to this effort of reducing Poland's debt in order to allow the newly democratized country to bring its market reform program to a successful conclusion; and
